WHAT IS OUR DUTY?

I have been privileged the isst few days to associate with some of the best known men of this old city. In every conversation, at one point or another, the talk has veered to the same topic.

On the one hand there pass through our minds the allur-ing words of Jesus, and on the other hand there are heard the muttered forebodings of International storms, Between the two all are perplexed.

The words most commonly heard are "We don't quite know where we are, or what

The GOSSIP CORNER

THINK of being all ready to have a reception and then not being able to have it, because there were no guests to attend. That is the situation that confronted the Woman's club last week. After cattertaining the visiting women who were here with their husbands for the cattlemen's convention, the middle of last week, the club was then ready to entertain in honor of the women here with the be given for these visiting engineers for their convention, the last of the week. A reception was planned, to be be given for these visiting engineers women when, behold, at noon of the day of the reception, the committee in charge found that none of the engineers were accompanied by their wives, and therefore there wasn't my hody to give a reception to.
